

SAFETY LINE
HANCOCK COUNTY
LARGEST PAID CIRCULATION IN HANCOCK COUNTY

ONE OUT OF EVERY TWO CHILDREN BORN TODAY EXPECTED TO BE INJURED OR KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS
(Caroline Kiefer)

We have repeated this awesome line with a definite purpose. Elsewhere in this paper we have given factual information on the activities of a group of public spirited citizens who are waging a steady battle to help prevent the dreadful consequences of the rapidly expanding traffic accidents and death tolls.

In a recent sermon delivered by Reverend Charles Johnson he conveyed the sorrows suffered when avoidable accidents occurred and death took its ghastly toll of loved ones. Pointing out that it is so easy to say to the bereaved, "have courage it's God's will, and God moves in mysterious ways." Like children who must learn the hard way when parents admonish them, so must adults consider that God, the ever loving father, perhaps could by his wondrous powers cause us to prevent deliberately projecting ourselves and those dear to us in the way of dangers. But that same God, with his infinite wisdom realizes that only by using our own minds, the God like quality of man, can he learn that he must reason for himself the dangers, and by this realization, himself, prevent the unnecessary tragedies which are becoming a daily part of our lives.

This group of citizens, the Bay St. Louis Safety Council are even as you and I. They have other duties and obligations, but their sense of responsibility for their fellow citizens, their shock and fright of future consequences has brought them an earlier realization of the tragedy in store for many of us unless safety in driving becomes the by-word of every person who handles a motor driven vehicle.

It is impossible for this group to do this work alone. It will take the effort of every individual, individually, to perform the task of gaining safety for Hancock County and its residents, and to try and curtail dangers ever prevalent for all motorists who pass through this area.

As a driver this becomes not only your own personal responsibility, but your sacred duty.

The time to think on duty is past. The time to act for prevention and curtailment of such dangers is present. It will take vigilant effort on the part of all drivers to exercise to the letter of the law all rules and regulations set down for safety driving. It is not sufficient that you are right when at the wheel of a car. It is necessary that you prevent becoming a party to a totally unnecessary and perhaps tragic accident.

Remember when driving that an automobile is a more deadly weapon than a loaded gun. Handle it with the same caution and the same respect you would handle a trigger-haired loaded weapon.

The motor vehicle is no longer just a pleasure item, it has become a definite need in the modern way of life. It is a good and wonderful means of transportation when properly used. It is a terrifying and deadly liability when abused.

SAFETY COMMISSION MEETS

A meeting held Monday, March 16, at the Hotel Reed consumed four hours during which time members of the committee met with Freeman L. Evans, Executive Director, Mississippi Safety Council, Jackson.

Six specific recommendations were made at this meeting in an effort to devise ways to alleviate some of the danger. It was pointed out that because traffic increases every year on U. S. 90, and because business and residents are developing in large numbers on both sides of U. S. 90, the Commission recommended that the Mississippi Highway Department and the State of Mississippi Public Safety Council take immediate steps to correct existing traffic hazards and consider future traffic hazards in view of the projected relocations of the Bay High Elementary School and the Hancock County Hospital.

Recommendations were:

1. The intersection at North Beach and U. S. 90 (westside of the Bay St. Louis Bridge). A four-way control with TURN ON A ROW is needed. Also, blinkers to the east and west of the signal are needed to warn drivers of a dangerous intersection ahead. At certain hours in the morning and evening, it is difficult to see the present light when it is on red—we refer to the times of the day when the sun is in the background.

2. The intersection at Dunbar Avenue and U. S. 90 will need a traffic light when the public school and County Hospital are relocated on the North side of U. S. 90.

3. The intersection at Main Street and U. S. 90 needs a traffic light. This has become one of the most difficult places to cross U. S. 90. A new supermarket has located on the North side of U. S. 90 and other businesses have been established. On the weekends, it is virtually impossible to cross U. S. 90 at certain times of the day.

4. The intersection of Kiln Road and U. S. 90 need a blinker light—amber, east and west, on U. S. 90, and Red, north and south, on Kiln Road. This has been the scene of a considerable number of the fatalities quoted above.

5. The motor vehicle scales presents drivers on U. S. 90 visual difficulties at night. Lights are misleading—possibly the re-arrangement of lights at the scale sign would help solve this hazard.

6. Improve shoulders along U. S. Highway 90.

Attention was directed by the Commission to the fact that weekend and seasonal traffic situations are peculiar to the Coast area. Members felt this should receive serious consideration on the part of the Mississippi State Highway Department and Department of Public Safety. It was explained that exact figures were difficult to give; however it was given as a fact that some of the smaller communities double and triple during the summer months, with a considerable increase on all calendar weekends.

Under such conditions the Commission felt that engineering tests during weekdays do not present a complete picture of the problems.

It was further suggested that it might prove helpful if members of the Mississippi Safety Highway Department and Department of Safety in Jackson would drive to New Orleans and back to the Bay St. Louis Bridge on any given summer weekend, more especially on a Sunday evening. At such times cars are virtually traveling bumper to bumper. Speed is not so much the problem, conceded the members, as the persons who take chances weaving in and out of traffic.

Evans assured the local group he would bring all the pressure he could at Jackson to try and convince the Highway Department that the recommendations should be acted upon immediately.

Officers William Kenny and Fred Owe of the Mississippi State Highway Patrol were among those present at Monday's meeting.

CONGRESSIONAL SIDELIGHTS

CONGRESSMAN W. M. CLEGG

CIVIL RIGHTS

Before a House Judiciary subcommittee made up entirely of Northern members hearings are in progress on a second, tougher civil rights bill one with all the more objectionable features that were eliminated from the first. The bill, plus several amendments and more stringent provisions, has been introduced in addition to the so-called "mild" bill introduced by the Democratic Leader, Senator Lyndon Johnson. The press has speculated that this move on the part of the Democratic Leader, to further his presidential aspirations. Senator Humphrey, another Presidential hopeful, predicted on a TV program with Senator Ellender that a much stronger bill than Johnson's would be passed by the Senate. Douglas and Javits, who Humphrey and others all have stronger versions available. Should Johnson's bill be brought to the floor of the Senate? There is no telling where it might end, with the Southern position in the Senate weakened by the change in the filibuster rules and some falling away of its already thin ranks. It will be remembered that last year the two Senators from Tennessee, two from Texas and one from Florida voted for the "civil wrongs" bill.

Thus, as we have previously pointed out, the prospects for holding the line in this field of Federal force bills does not look too encouraging. In spite of all ill will and trouble that has been engendered by the Supreme Court decrees in the school integration cases and the enactment of the 1957 "civil wrongs" bill, the NAACP apparently still has the politicians in both Parties doing their will. This does not mean that the Southerners, outvoted as we are, are even considering throwing in the sponge. Most of us will use every parliamentary obstacle we can to prevent the enactment of such further unwise and (we think) unconstitutional proposals. But it is apparent that so long as the South remains disunited, these further acts of regimentation of the people will continue. We repeat our oft-stated position that if the South would become a united, cohesive force and exercise its independence, it could again become a potent political influence, that would effectively offset the power now being exercised by the politically powerful minority groups.

CURSING THE COURT

On the plus side of the ledger, we are happy to report that another subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee (not stacked with Northern Liberals) has reported to the Full Committee two bills that would curb the United States Supreme Court. They are: 1. The States' Rights Bill, sponsored by Mr. Chairman, Congressman Howard W. Smith of Virginia, and myself among others; and 2. A bill also sponsored by me, to correct the so-called MALLOY decision of the Court which has freed many criminals because the Court held in effect that because of delay of even several hours in arraigning the prisoner while the confession was being obtained violated his civil rights. These bills were passed by the House last year, but were killed in the Senate. We hope that they fair better this session.

STATE AND SOUTH FACING A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY FOR FUTURE PROGRESS

As a strategic hub of the dynamic, forward-minded South, Mississippi is sharing and will share increasingly in the phenomenal economic progress which is causing Dixie to be universally recognized as America's most promising area. Many of the nation's business and industrial leaders predict that the South's economy will top the entire country within a few years. The Southern states have many natural advantages which make the region well suited for economic development.

WARM WEATHER HELPS GRAZING CROPS IN STATE

Winter grazing crops have made good growth throughout the State as fairly dry, warm weather moved across the State. Many fields are now dry enough to graze and farmers are turning stock into small grains, ryegrass and clovers. Small grains are being planted, and plowing and stalk cutting also is underway.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

By GLORIA CLAY

March is National Egg Month. We have more eggs this time of year than we did last year. Look for good buys in large size, high quality eggs. Whatever size egg you find at your grocery store, the price should mean you can economically use lots of them.

WHICH ELECTRIC APPLIANCE MOST WANTED

What would be your answer if someone came up and asked you? Which of your small electric appliances do you value most? Or what small electric appliance do you want most?

Appliance specialists tell us the appliance homemakers want most is the electric mixer. If you are one who is wanting and shopping for a mixer, be sure to check for certain points. By the way, the stand mixer is the most common type in today's kitchen.

First of all check the controls. Control switches should be easy to reach. Near the top and front is usually better. The controls should be easy to read and operate with an adequate speed range for all mixing jobs.

Choose a lightweight yet stable mixer. The power head needs to be firmly fastened to the stand, yet easy to remove if it is a portable mixer. Motors should have sealed in lubrication for cleanliness and convenience.

Are the beaters easy to insert and remove? Attachments to be satisfactory need to be easy to connect and use.

You will find smooth blades easier to clean than ridged ones. Check the beaters and bowls to see if they are designed to feed the food into the beaters with the least manual aid.

Consider safety. Beaters that rotate away from each other at the point nearest you are safer. They push objects away rather than draw them near the beaters. Also be sure the mixer you select carries the Underwriters Laboratory seal.

PLENTIFUL FOODS

Eggs, of course, are the features of the plentiful foods list for this month. But you have wide choice of other foods in good supply. They include turkey, chicken, lamb, beef, pork, fish, canned soups, and vegetables. Now that should give you some ideas for your menu.

Speaker At Bay High P. T. A. Monthly Meeting

Father Victor Bernard from St. Michael's Parish, Piquette, was the guest speaker for the monthly meeting of the P. T. A. at Bay Central School.

Father Bernard gave a very interesting talk on juvenile delinquency. He stated "Delinquency is not caused by the society of the class of people. The question arises 'What does cause delinquency?' People say that the child's surroundings will influence him, but actually there are three causes of delinquency: the home, the school system, and the business world."

"Juvenile delinquents fall into three classes: mentally defective, mentally unbalanced, and the normal delinquent. All three classes to be subscribed and paid before the corporation may begin business."

This corporation shall begin business when $10,000.00 (ten thousand dollars) shall be paid in. This represents 10 (ten) shares of common stock having a par value of $100.00 (one hundred dollars). Signatures:
